OFFICIAL DECREE

The New World Order Council hereby declares the following appointments:

World-chan

TND Technologies proudly presents World-chan; a novel social credit system inspired by the works of the Chinese Communist Party. Its primary purpose is to collect engagement data and process it in a way that rewards quality behavior with various perks.

She sees everything; what you post, what you say, what you do, what you think. Nothing is beyond her reach. The underlying algorithms are obviously private, and security measures have been put in place to combat farming and filter genuine, original content. You can't circumvent these limitations, and doing so will only result in complete annihilation of your social credit.

The World-chan project remains in active development; its scope is vast, and so its capabilities will be expanded over time to best suit the needs of the World World Order.

Droyd Industries

The World World Order has acquired Droyd Industries via a hostile takeover and appointed Cascadia as its new Chief Executive Officer. We hope this decision will expand DI's horizons and that all further cooperation will bring us all great fortune.

Our future is your future. 🍷
